August 4, 2019

Gospel Today: Luke 12:13-21

"Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me." Here, Jesus offers the man no help. Instead he uses the question to teach, in light of the coming judgment, what life really consist of. The rich man's world is small, just him and his possessions, and now he learns that he is to lose his life. What good are his possessions now? Life does not consist in possessions but in sharing what we possess with others. The goods of the earth have been given to everyone.

Pope's Prayer Intention for August - Evangelization: That families, through their life of prayer and love, become ever more clearly "schools of true human growth".

Catechism of the Catholic Church (151 To believe in Jesus Christ, the Son of God) For a Christian, believing in God cannot be separated from believing in the One he sent, his "beloved Son", in whom the Father is "well pleased"; God tells us to listen to him. The Lord himself said to his disciples: "Believe in God, believe also in me." We can believe in Jesus Christ because he is himself God, the Word made flesh: "No one has ever seen God; the only Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has made him known." Because he "has seen the Father", Jesus Christ is the only one who knows him and can reveal him.

Pope Francis - "As a young soldier, St Ignatius of Loyola, thought of his own glory. But then he was attracted by the glory of God, which gave meaning to his life."

St. John Vianney (feast day Aug 4) John Vianney was born in France in 1786. He desired to become a priest, but his father opposed. He enrolled in Napoleon's Army but later he deserted because he refused to serve under the man who imprisoned Pope Pius VII. John's brother enrolled in his place to save him. He studied priesthood and was ordained because of his goodness, despite the fact, that he had great difficulties with his studies, especially Latin. He was sent to the little town of Ars as pastor, where he found himself in a difficult situation. Gradually, many people from the surrounding villages came to him for confession. The confessional became his principle apostolic battlefield. He exhorted, encouraged, and advised the penitents and the fame of him being a man of God spread throughout the region. Toward the end of his life he spent sixteen to eighteen hours a day hearing Confession to the thousands who flocked to Ars. John was gifted with discernment of spirits and read souls with ease, reclaiming thousands of lapsed Catholics. He helped found La Providence, a home for orphaned and abandoned children. For thirty years, he suffered diabolical attacks. He was canonized in 1925 and made patron of parish priests.

Enjoy your long weekend in Honey Harbour and Port Severn area.
